The UN Millennium Goals

1. Eradicate extreme poverty and hunger
2. Achieve universal primary education
3. Promote gender equality and empower women
4. Reduce child mortality
5. Improve maternal health
6. Combat HIV/AIDS, malaria and other diseases
7. Ensure environmental sustainability
8. Develop a global partnership for development

The Agenda 21

The Earth Summit of Rio de Janeiro in 1992 had been held because people were seriously concerned about the situation of our planet. The result has been a plan for action for the 21st century: The Agenda21. Governments and international organisations but also citizens around the world are following since then the slogan:

„Think global, act local to change global.”

World Youth Citizens - Junge Weltbuerger

Together for a better world!

World Youth Citizens ...

... is an international network of young people who are corporately realising projects for sustainable development, international understanding and the UN Millennium Development Goals. Founded during the 2nd World Congress of Youth 2003 in Morocco, it presently comprises young citizens of the world in five continents.

As a result of the Student Days "One World" 2004, a WYC Group has emerged in Karlsruhe, Germany. Cooperating with young people in other countries, its members are realising their own youth-led action projects in the helpful framework of the Local Agenda21.

Taking part

Whether you want to support our current projects or to realise your complete own idea, you are always welcome to join our network! We are meeting regularly to exchange news about our activities and to develop common plans. To contact us, just send an e-mail, give a call or drop by the Agenda Office!

Karlsruhe Student Days „One World“

In October 2005, about 1.200 high-school students will have again the opportunity to participate in workshops about other countries and cultures, globalisation, human rights and environmental issues that will be held by young world youth citizens from five continents. All our current activities will be presented and new projects will be initiated there. Take part!
