Dear Sir or Madam,

Kondwani Thindwa (Passport No. Mw 194119) was accepted from a highly selective pool of international applicants to attend the 1st International Youth Conference on National Democracies, to be held from July 3rd -7th, 2006 in Yerevan, Armenia. Acceptance to attend the IYND conference represents an extraordinary accomplishment deserving of support and recognition. Hence, we submit this letter in his support and request that you approve his request for a visa to enter Armenia.

YERITAC is a local organization, formed by the partnership of students from Armenian Universities, involved in organization of youth conferences in Armenia and promoting the participation of young people in international youth academic and educational events.

1st International Conference on National Democracies is the first attempt to organize discussions among students, young scholars and youth activists about the issues and obstacles of the process of democratization worldwide and particularly in post-Soviet countries from the viewpoint of national culture and traditional normative-value system. We expect that only through active participation of highly qualified delegates like Kondwani can this understanding and process be realized.

Kondwani's attendance at IYND conference would greatly benefit our international dialogue of issues relevant to national culture, youth participation and democracy. We therefore ask that you approve his visa application. Please contact us at jonas@yeritac-am.org or alexander@yeritac-am.org if you have any questions or need any additional information regarding the IYND conference or Kondwani's involvement in it.

Sincerely,

Hovhannes Grigoryan and Alexander Hakobyan
