

United Nations Association in Canada
Association canadienne pour les Nations Unies

Call for Photo Submissions

The United Nations Association in Canada (UNA-Canada) through its innovative Its Time to Act: Mobilizing Young Canadians around HIV/AIDS project is preparing P2P A Peer to Peer Resource Guide. The goals of P2P are:

- Empower youth to educate themselves and to educate others on their sexual health.
- Help youth by offering further resources towards coping with HIV, getting tested, and the treatment of other sexually transmitted diseases and infections.
- Highlighting the stories of youth and their tips and experiences of issues related to HIV and AIDS.

AND ABOVE ALL ELSE THE P2P AIMS TO:

- Include all youth as a stakeholder in the management of HIV and AIDS whether they are affected, infected or seemingly unaffected by this pandemic.

UNA-Canada is looking for photos from any budding photojournalist/ photographer or simply any one with a keen eye and a passion towards HIV/AIDS advocacy.

The photos should be a visual representation of the scope of HIV/AIDS today.

Electronic copies of any photographs can be sent electronically to Jason Oliver, Communications Officer for UNA-Canada at jason.oliver@unac.org

All photographers will be contacted if their submissions have been short-listed before the printing and reproduction of their work.